FLYING SCOTSMAN™

In 2004, the National Railway Museum rescued Flying Scotsman for the nation, ensuring the locomotive maintains its place as the 'people's locomotive'.

We are totally committed to keeping it in the National Collection where thousands of people will be able to come and see it. We also plan to run it from time to time as an operational locomotive for the public to enjoy.

Flying Scotsman is currently being restored to make it fit to return to main line operations and by purchasing any of these items you are helping the NRM bring the most famous locomotive in the world back on track.

Why not buy a gift for a friend and help to secure this national treasure for the enjoyment of future generations.

All products are part of the Flying Scotsman ongoing programme and stock availability is subject to each retailer listed and not governed by NRM and NMSI trading.
